CPCS is committed to the health and safety of its employees and has adopted this policy to communicate its expectations and guidelines surrounding substance use, misuse and abuse.

Employees under the influence of drugs or alcohol on the job can pose serious health and safety risks both to themselves and their fellow employees. To help ensure a safe and healthy workplace, CPCS prohibits alcohol and drugs from being brought on to, or present on company premises.

Definitions

Drug: Any substance which can change or adversely affect the way a person thinks or feels, whether obtained legally or illegally. This could include recreational cannabis, cocaine, opiates, and amphetamines.

Drug paraphernalia: Material or equipment used or intended for use in injecting, ingesting, inhaling, or otherwise introducing a drug, illegal or controlled, into the human body.

Medication: Includes a drug obtained legally, either over the counter or through a prescription issued by an authorized medical practitioner. For this policy, medications of concern are those that inhibit a worker's ability to perform their job safely and productively.

Alcohol: Any beverage containing any quantity of alcohol, including, beer, wine, and distilled spirits.

Expectations

The following expectations apply to employees and management alike while conducting work on behalf of the company, whether on or off company property:

- Employees are expected to arrive to work fit for duty and able to perform their duties safely and to standard; employees must remain fit for duty for the duration of their working hours;
- Use, possession, manufacture, distribution or sale of drugs or alcohol during work hours, including during paid and unpaid breaks, is strictly prohibited except as otherwise described in this policy;
- Employees are prohibited from reporting to work while under the influence of recreational cannabis and any other non-prescribed substances; and
- Employees on medically approved medication that could reasonably be expected to impair performance must communicate this to management on a proactive basis.
- Employees are expected to abide by all governing legislation pertaining to the possession and use of cannabis.

Possession at Work

Possession of drugs and drug paraphernalia on company property is prohibited, unless medically approved.

Possession of drugs, and drug paraphernalia is also prohibited while employees are acting on behalf of the organization off of company premises. This includes attending events as a company representative.

Company Social Events – Drinking and Driving

From time to time CPCS may organize social events where alcohol is available for consumption. Attendance and participation in these events is strictly voluntary. These events will always be held in a location outside of the office, or otherwise in compliance with local legislation.

While present at such events, all staff are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that reflects well on the organization.

When employees leave a company social event (via taxi or designated driver or driving themselves), their actions after their departure become their own responsibility. The Company will take reasonable steps to ensure that employees leaving Company events do so in a safe manner.

Disciplinary Action

Employees will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment for failure to adhere to the provisions of this policy.
